CANTONMENT FORT MACARTHUR, CALIFORNIA

THE LIBERTY FAIR

We went to the Liberty Fair.
The soldiers and sailors were there;
 The Navy crew
 And the Army too,
Were seeking their freedom there.

They asked us all to march
Right past our sweetheart's porch;
 While everyone
 In the heat of the sun
Thot he would surely scorch.

We marched a thousand blocks,
And stumbled over the rocks;
 And every one,
 I'm a son-of-a-gun!
Got blisters from his socks.

They took us to a park,
To drink our coffee dark;
 We took a look,
 Then cussed the cook
When we heard the "weiners" bark.

We saw a lot of tents,
And a hell of a lot of fence;
 But we couldn't get in
 And we couldn't get out.
Oh, our joy it was immense!

They fired a few salutes
That scared us out of our boots;
 But you can bet
 That we didn't get
To talk to any "beauts."

We went to the Liberty Fair.
The soldiers and sailors were there;
 But how do you mean
 Oh! how do you mean
That it was a LIBERTY Fair?

REGIMENTAL HISTORY OF THE 19TH REGIMENT ARMY ARTILLERY, (C.A.C.)

The Regiment was organized October 20, 1918 pursuant to the following order:

HEADQUARTERS
COAST DEFENSES OF LOS ANGELES,
Fort MacArthur, California.

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 55

October 20, 1918.

Pursuant to telegraphic instructions of October 19, 1918 from the Adjutant General of the Army, there will be organized in these defences the 19th Regiment of Artillery (Army Artillery), (Tables of Organization 205).

To constitute the Batteries of this Regiment, the following Companies C.D. of L.A. are transferred to the 19th Regiment of Artillery, and designated as indicated:—4th Company to Headquarters Company; 10th Company to Supply Company; 11th Company to Battery "A"; 13th to Battery "B"; 14th to Battery "C"; 18th to Battery "D"; 19th to Battery "E"; 20th to Battery "F".

BY ORDER OF COLONEL WILLIAMS:

RUSSELL RYAN, Captain C. A., Adjutant.

By S.O. 241 C.D. of L.A., October 19, 1918, the following officers were attached to the Regiment: Captains Johnson, Nix, Nicoles, and Hill; 1st Lieuts. Lowder, Schulz, MacChurè, Sharpe, and Macfarlane; 2nd Lieuts. Carrington, Summers, McFadden, Corrin, Gardner, Cody, Veronda, Gilkeson, Lawrence and Bales; Captain Johnson assumed command. Pursuant to S.O. 249 C.D. of L.A., October 29, 1918, Colonel Adna G. Clarke, C.A., assumed command.

On November 8, 1918, seventeen Non-commissioned officers of the Regiment distinguished themselves and brought credit to the Regiment as is shown by the following order:

HEADQUARTERS 19TH REGIMENT ARMY ARTILLERY, (C.A.C.)
Fort MacArthur, California.

No. 1

November 8, 1918.

1. The Regimental Commander takes great pleasure in commending the following members of his Regiment for promptly answering to a call for volunteers to perform dangerous and arduous duty in care of the sick.

Sergeants Baird, Cody, Emery, Higgins, Strickler, Sullivan, R. Weichert, Corporals Blevins, Frey, Gosling, Hurst, Kinsley, Lindeen, Maxwell, E. Maxwell, F. Putnam.

BY ORDER OF COLONEL CLARKE:

W. J. JOHNSON, Captain C. A., Adjutant.

Men from other organizations and recruits were assigned to the Regiment from time to time.

Demobilization began December 15, 1918 and on December 25, 1918 the Regiment was officially disbanded per paragraph one (1), G.O. 68, C.D. of L.A.

19TH REGIMENT ARMY ARTILLERY, (C.A.C.)
Fort MacArthur, California.

No. 2

December 25, 1918.

1. Pursuant to War Department orders, this Regiment is demobilized.
2. The Regimental Commander desires to take this opportunity to comment upon a few things that make the short and rather uneventful career of the Regiment noteworthy.
3. Organized October 20, 1918, as an essential part of General Pershing's Great Reserve Army, its entire service was rendered at this Post. Its aggregate personnel being nineteen officers and six hundred seventy-one enlisted men.

4. During its two months of service it had:—

No trials by General Court-Martial
No trials by Special Court-Martial.
One trial by Summary Court-Martial.
Two men absent without leave for twenty-four hours.
No man absent from duty because of his own misconduct.
No entries on the Company Discipline Records.
Practically its entire personnel fired the instruction practice Small Arms Course.
It attained an efficiency in close order drill and the manual of arms that was noteworthy.
It participated in three field meets with credit and enthusiasm.
It made a very creditable record entraining, parading and detraining on "Liberty" Day, Los Angeles, California, December 4, 1918.

One 1st Sergeant, six sergeants and ten corporals distinguished themselves by promptly answering the Regimental Commander's call for volunteers for dangerous and arduous duty as hospital attendants in care of the sick.

And finally its enlisted personnel left the service with the finest spirit imaginable.

5. The Regimental Commander desires on the occasion of their muster out, to thank the officers and men of the Regiment for the perfect spirit of discipline they have maintained and the affectionate loyalty and devotion they have on many occasions shown towards him, and the service.

6. On this beautiful Christmas Day, when Peace on Earth and Good Will Towards Men has again, and let us at least hope, been finally attained, your Regimental Commander expresses the hope that you may all prove as true and worthy citizens as you have been Honest and Faithful soldiers of our great Republic.

7. Having personally handed you your discharge certificates or transferred you to other stations or duty, I bid you Good-Bye, Good Luck and God's Blessings.

ADNA G. CLARKE,
Colonel, Coast Artillery,
COMMANDING.

SOLDIER RIMES
BURDE BAXTER CLARKE

WHEN THE BIG GUNS SHOOT

I've done a hitch or two myself at soldierin' around,
In Boston Harbor, Hampton Roads, Pedro, Puget Sound,
And out near Salt Lake City, upon the mountain shelf,
Was with the 22d field and liked to spread myself
A-doin' stunts at monkey drill to make the fellers hoot;
But them small field guns ain't nothin'
When the big guns shoot.

You are in a snug range station a-takin splash and time,
And up to see the war display observe the ladies climb!
It's fun to see them hold their ears so tight whene'er the guns
Are climbing up in battery, in weight some fifty tons;
A-feelin' scared for them to fire, and then begin to scoot,
For you'd think creation busted
When the big guns shoot!

The twelve-inch gun's a beauty! It's a great sight, you can bet,
To see her come in battery above the parapet,
A-belchin' forth her fire and smoke in one great awful flash;
When you look out toward the target, you can see a geyser splash,
And out beyond another; it's a ricochet to boot.
Things are going some at soldierin'
When the big guns shoot!

Oh, it's fine to be a soldier! Why, man, don't you enlist?
It's money in your pockets, and it's better, I insist,
Than huntin' 'round to find a job when none ain't to be had,
And your pay is always comin' whether times are good or bad.
You can see 'most all your country; you can't vegetate, take root;
Uncle Sammy keeps you movin'
Where his big guns shoot!

ARMY FEVER

When your first long hitch is over, and you've cashed your finals few,
And a breakfast and a boat-ride are all that's left for you,
And you toy with your collar, as you don your suit of "cits,"
While your bunkie, sitting near you, has the bluest kind of fits;
You are bubbling o'er with pleasure at the thought of going out;
The friends at home will welcome you, of that there's not a doubt;
And it never seems to strike you, that you've made a beaten track,
In these years you've been a soldier—
That you might come back!

So you hasten out as "Boat Call" blows—last call you have to stand—
And you wave farewell to comrades as you push away from land.
"First Call" for drill is sounding from the bugle's throat of gold,
But you are free—"don't have to stand no drills in heat and cold";
Altho' you get to wondering, as these scenes fade from sight,
If drilling really was so bad, and walking post at night.
You think, of course, when first discharged one feels just sort o' sad;
But it's army fever symptoms—
And you've got 'em bad.

You're in business on the outside, and you're making good it seems;
But the bugle keeps a-calling, and a-calling thro' your dreams.
Then some day you meet a soldier out on furlough for a week,
And you think it only friendly to go up to him and speak;
And you find you know his brother, or his cousin, or his friend,
And your job upon the outside has found a sudden end;
For a longing fierce comes o'er you that your soul can not resist—
It's the crisis of the fever—
And you re-enlist!

A BUM BUGLER

A bugler once tried to bugle "Tattoo."
The bugle was old, but the bugler was new;
The troops were encamped in a wild sylvan glade,
And the echoes played tag with the discord it made.

The Colonel, a jolly old cavalry file,
Thought "Stables" was blowing; aroused with a smile,
Turned sleepily over, and murmured, "I guess
That bugler's been drinking again, more or less."

A veteran captain, who'd heard war's alarms,
Sprang into his trousers and yelled out, "To Arms!"
The sky-pilot, robed in pajamas of white,
Said, "Why's that blank 'Church Call' a-blowing tonight?"

The medico, late from a man that had snakes,
Thinks "Sick Call" is blowing, and suddenly wakes
And utters some swear-words—I fear eight or ten—
And vows he 'lows Grady has got 'em again.

A shavetail lieutenant, just out of the Point,
With chills in his gizzard and aches in each joint,
Thinks "Mess Call" is blowing, and suddenly shoots
Full out of his blankets and into his boots.

Top sergeant rolled out, as a deluge splashed o'er,
And snatched up his blankets from out of the pour,
As a corporal near him thought "Fire Call" blew,
And would fain quench the blaze with a bucket or two.

Then a man just turned in from his quarterly spree
Fell out of his blankets and cursed "Reveille";
While a rook, just enlisted, with thoughts homeward bent,
Thought sure 'twas the "General" and pulled down his tent.

In the mean time the bugler that caused the uproar
Went back to the guard-tent and bugled once more;
And tried, as he smoothed his curly red pate,
To think what had kicked up the rumpus so great.

But the regiment's baby, a few tents away,
Snugged closer to mother to sleepily say:
"What's 'at call, mother dear, a-sounding such noise?
I sh'd think they'd know better 'n to wake little boys!"
But mother says, "Hush-a-bye, baby dear, do!
It's just a bum bugler a-blowing 'Tattoo.'"

"MESS CALL"

I love to hear the bugle call. Its silvery notes so clear
Seem always like a lovin' voice a-callin' in my ear.
But that ain't so of "Reveille." It busts my sleep in two;
And "Drill Call" gets so tiresome! I like to hear "Tattoo,"
And "Recall" 's a prime favorite, but it ain't hard to guess
The call that I love most of all—

It's "Soupie," known as "Mess!"

Perhaps you're drillin' rookies green! You'd love to turn 'em in!
You've drilled and sweat and cussed a streak, and then begun again,
And faced 'em 'round and faced 'em back, and ordered "Forward march!"
You wished they'd ginger up a bit and get a little starch,
But like a worn-out dish-rag each is slouching more or less;
Tho' rookies learn one thing right quick,
And that's the call "To Mess."

It's queer how soldiers kick on mess! You'd think 'em skin and bones
And dyin' with the tummy-ache to hear their growls and groans
If Captain also buys his grub from out the company store,
They'll swear he gets the outside fruit and leaves them but the core.
Oh yes! the cook gets knocked on too, and even I confess,
For double pay I wouldn't be

The STEWARD of that mess!

The non-coms don't escape their share, and each one gets a rap;
So when the kitchen you police, just do it up with snap;
Be sure they ain't no angle-worms or centipedes or bugs
A-lurkin' in the vegetables! Be sure to peel the spuds;
And when above the army range to fix the fire you stoop,
Don't scatter coal and cinders in the pot of army soup.
And helpin' thus to make things right, your comrades all will bless
The soldier and musician man

Who wrote that call "To Mess."

WHEN "FIRE CALL" BLOWS

You talk about the scary times on ancient battle-fields,
Where arrows fell like pointed hail against the glitterin' shields;
Fair memory's steed you'd best rein in and check its ancient prance;
There's excitement in the present, at a soldier's dance.
If you happen to be waltzin' with your Lily or your Rose,
You'll change it to a quickstep

If "Fire Call" blows.

I remember once attending a jolly soldier hop,
And settin' next to Sally gettin' ready for to pop
The all-important question, when we heard the bugle blow.
'Twas just a practice "Call to Arms," but each one had to go,
And by the time that "Recall" blew the ball had reached its close;
But even "Call to Arms" is tame

When "Fire Call" blows.

You're dancin' with your Tootsie "Merry Widow's" soft refrain,
When all at once the bugle's sound cuts in with lusty strain;
Uncanny notes of "Fire Call" go up your spine in creeps,
And all the frightened wimmen folks are faintin' 'round in heaps!
You beat it for the open—no livin' human's woes
Could stop a reg'lar soldier man

When "Fire Call" blows.

As "Recall" sounds you run amuck a soldier, khaki-clad.
"And did your Tootsie Wootsie faint?" you ask the stalwart lad.
He gives you one long starin' look that all your courage saps—
By the fourteen jumpin' tom-cats, there are bars upon his straps!*
And like a flash you fade away, to go back and propose;
Explain to Sally why you git

When "Fire Call" blows.

"STUB'S" REQUEST

"Don't play no 'Taps' above my grave,"
Said "Stub," the orderly.
"When you plant me, I want it done
To the sound of 'Reveille.'
Thus doing my last bunk fatigue,
Old Glory close wrapped o'er,
A'thro' my dreams the bugle calls:
'I can't get 'em up'—no more."

A SLIGHT MISTAKE

In New York, a soldier named Bisco,
Bent on re-enlistment in his Co.,
Awoke aboard ship
On a war-hunting trip;
He'd 'listed Marine, out in Frisco!
